GRANITE CITY — Reese Drug Store in Bellemore Village is tentatively scheduled to reopen Nov. 7.

The drug store, located at 3216 Nameoki Road, has been closed since Dec. 26, 1984, when a fire destroyed much of the store plus parts of other stores in the Bellemore Village Shopping Center.

Construction work on Reese has been in progress since the spring, according to Jane Leach, advertising manager for Reese. Ralph Korte Construction has been doing the work.

Tax hike finds support

By BILL WINTER
Staff writer

The first tax hike ever sought by Belleville Area Community College District 522 is attracting both support and opposition as the Nov. 5 election date nears.

Backers here note that 53 percent of the entire district's new tax dollars would be spent in Granite City.

PROPOSONENTS describe the plan as a big bargain for Quad-Citians, while foes say they are wary of any tax change.

The eight-county, 2,100-square-mile district operates major campuses in Belleville, Granite City and Red Bud as well as 22 extension centers.

Building improvements and staff expansions are proposed. In Belleville, a major civic center and an indoor recreation center would be constructed in cooperation with other groups.

THE BALLOTT calls for raising the education fund tax rate limit from 13.2 to 22.2 cents, which would boost the potential districtwide levy from $2,325,563 to $4,247,538, and increasing the maximum building fund rate from 2.8 to 7.8 cents, expanding that potential levy from $335,725 to $1,492,378.

Utilization of new taxation would be phased in as bond debt is retired. Although 14 cents of added rate (on $100 valuation) is involved, taxpayers would never encounter an increase of more than 10% cents in their present college tax rate.

OFFICIALS of the college have committed themselves to this 1986 distribution of new funds: $1,083,094 for Granite City Campus, $530,348 for Red Bud and $407,960 for Belleville.

In 1989, it would be $1,223,502 for GCC, $600,202 for Red Bud and $461,699 for Belleville; in 1994, $1,404,018 for Granite City, $688,764 for Red Bud and $529,818 for Belleville.

Playing an expanding regional role in both education and economic development, Belleville Area College has become one of the leading centers of higher learning in the St. Louis metropolitan area, despite having the fourth lowest tax rate of the 37 Illinois community college districts.

EMPHASIS is being placed on the fact that area industries have endorsed the tax proposal, including executives of Granite City Steel. A diverse training center at Maryville and Nameoki roads is being called essential for a resurgence of local manufacturing activity in the 1980s and 1990s.

David Schermer, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce president, comments, "The Chamber believes Granite City Campus can be the key to economic development of our area. A top-notch college will attract new industry and will encourage existing industry to expand."

Elizabeth Jenner, a trustee of the college, has taken an opposite viewpoint and says she suspects taxpayer money is being used in the tax election campaign.

CHANCELLOR Bruce Wissore says she is wrong in asserting that the district has something to hide. "She's looking for something that doesn't exist," he says, adding that such campaign costs as printing are being borne by the Committee for Economic Development and Quality Education. Some college employees have contributed funds to the committee.

Helpful resident now needing help

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH

Aiding a violent crime victim can sometimes turn out badly.

And that's just what happened to Walter Ledbetter, 35, of 1712 Sycamore Ave.

LEDBETTER was AT a South St. Louis tavern in June, when a youth ran into the bar and said a group of people were killing a man outside.

Ledbetter went to check the situation and observed six men beating a man.

When Ledbetter told the group to stop they turned on him, wielding baseball bats, knives, tire irons, bricks and bumper jacks.

LEDBETTER SUFFERED a broken left arm, wrist and thumb, a shattered right hand, a cut from the crown of his head to his hairline and two stab wounds in his side.

Today, Ledbetter has only limited use of his right hand, which has caused him to lose his job as a truck mechanic. He has undergone three operations on the hand and must undergo a fourth.

The Granite Citian said his doctor told him it will be at least six months after the operation before he will have enough use of his hand to seek employment.

TO TOP THINGS OFF, Ledbetter was recently informed by the Victims of Crime in St. Louis, he will not receive aid because he is an Illinois resident. A similar organization in Illinois has informed him he is not eligible for assistance from their organization because the incident occurred in Missouri. Ledbetter said he will appeal his case.

"From what I've been told if I do win the appeal, it could be as long as one year before I receive any assistance," he said. "I told them a man could be starved to death and buried a long time before the process could go through court."

Ledbetter, originally from Arkansas, moved to Granite City in March with his wife Marjorie. Two weeks after the incident, Ledbetter's wife gave birth to a daughter.

Complaint tried again against plant

GRANITE CITY — An attempt to reinstate an air pollution complaint against Granite City Steel was filed with the Illinois Pollution Control Board last week.

Attorney Charles R. Douglas said he filed on Monday a "motion to vacate the order of dismissal." He filed on behalf of Francis Farmer, a local resident.

THE ORIGINAL CASE, filed in 1978, alleged the company's sinter plant was depositing a white ash on the cars and homes of residents, and that the ash was eating away the paint on the objects.

The case was dismissed by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency last month after an agreement was drawn up with the steel plant.

Since the steel company shut down its sinter plant two years ago, the agreement would place controls on the operation if it ever restarts.

Douglas said the dismissal is a "distinct failure on the part of the (See REINSTATEMENT, Page 6)

Insurance industry policy prices skyrocketing

(Part one in a series)
By SUSANNE INDELICATO

Imagine bread at $5 per loaf. As unlikely as that might seem, the insurance industry and its customers face similar circumstances.

"It's like selling cars after the war. The dealer only had 30 cars on the lot, but he had 75 customers, so you paid full list price for a car. It's the same with the insurance companies. They're carrying all the premiums they can," said Tom Kiely of the Insurance Service Center at Delmar Avenue and 20th Street.

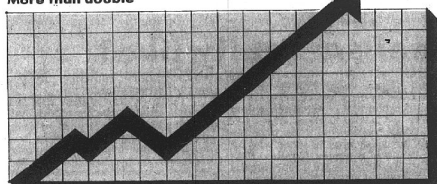

Insurance customers, particularly public entities, construction companies, airlines, doctors and others in a high-risk category, are suddenly finding they must pay 100 percent to 1,000 percent more for less liability coverage. If they can get coverage at all.

If such customers can't get the insurance, they may go out of business. If they do get liability insurance and pay the higher premiums, the costs of that insurance may trickle through the economy to everyone's pocketbook.

"Several years ago, the insurance industry was in a profitable position because of the high interest rates," Kiely explained. "We could write $100 billion in premiums and we had tremendous reserves. We cut the (insurance) rates to retain competition. We were making a tremendous percentage on investments, 18 to 20 percent, so we took a loss on the premium of 8 to 10 percent."

"But then the interest rates dropped, investment went down and the losses ate up our reserves. As a result, the 1985 public has $110 billion in premiums to write, and the insurance industry only has the capacity to write $100 billion. That means somebody's going to get hurt," he said.

More than double

THE COST OF INSURANCE

It's a catch-22 situation, Kiely said.

The insurance companies are governed by statutory laws that they must have so much money in surplus in ratio to the premiums. When the reserves drop, we have problems writing premiums. To increase the assets, we must have the premiums. To get the premiums, we must have more assets," he said.

The problem isn't exclusive to Madison County or Illinois. It is a nationwide problem, according to Frank Weaver, supervising insurance agent for the Illinois Insurance Board in Springfield.

"There's a tightening in the reininsurance industry," he said. "Reinsurance is when an insurance company writes a policy for $1 million. The company that writes it would not keep the entire $1 million exposure. It may pass $500,000 onto another company."

But low interest rates aren't the only problem, insurance officials said. Lawsuits also can eat up an insurance company's vital reserves.

"The judgments in the United States in general are part of the problem. Lawsuits also can eat up an insurance company's vital reserves."

"The judgments in the United States in general are part of the problem. Lawsuits also can eat up an insurance company's vital reserves."

Does Scaffolding Act hurt Illinois?

Some people think Illinois may suffer greater consequences of the tightening insurance market because of the Illinois Structural Work Act, or Scaffolding Act, and its "excessive" workmen's compensation.

"They are a tremendous burden on the insurance companies," Tom Kiely of Insurance Service Center said.

Illinois is the only state with a scaffolding act, which allows an injured subcontractor to sue the owner of the site on which he was working.

Because subcontractors may sue industry and business, industry and business may avoid Illinois, Kiely said.

Although he admits there is a problem in the insurance industry, Bob White, deputy director of Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, doesn't think workmen's compensation and the Scaffolding Act are keeping businesses away from Illinois.

"It doesn't come to the forefront as a reason industry decides to locate here," he said. "Workmen's compensation is expensive in Illinois, but it's being worked on."

As for the Scaffolding Act, White said officials in the insurance industry usually cite the act as a detriment to growth.

"We are getting new industry. We have industries here which are expanding. We have things here to attract them," he said.

Such things include tax abatements and enterprise zone programs, a trained labor force, a central location and access to rail and water transportation, and good financial incentives, White said.

"The main thing I'll say is we've got great things going for us. You don't base your decision on one thing," he said.

Robin Skiles, a spokeswoman at the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, said workmen's compensation is not a serious detriment to economic growth.

"We've been working for several years to lower workmen's compensation. We're now below the national average."

"We're always concerned with any component that deals with economic development, but I don't view it as a high detriment. We always have business expanding, and we always have a financial package we can put together to entice business to Illinois."

"We've got the attitude that somebody's going to pay for an accident. Stick the big guy. But you stick the little guy. The big guy can afford it," he said.

$1.2 million for home fuel assistance granted to county

Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board, is announcing that Madison County has been awarded funds under the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program for the 1985-86 fiscal year.

Hagnauer said the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs had awarded the county a grant of $1,242,590 to administer the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program (IHEAP) for Madison County.

The county estimates that approximately 5,000 households could be served under this grant.

THE COUNTY'S Community Development Department is the local administering agency for the IHEAP program.

During Nov. 1-30, the department will take and process applications from households which are disconnected or where the individuals are classified as elderly or handicapped.

Starting Dec. 1, 1985, the Community Development Department will take and process application from all other interested applicants who reside in Madison County.

There will be an announcement in late October to inform interested persons where they may complete an energy assistance application.

PERSONS WISHING to apply for energy assistance must provide income documentation for the past 90 days for all household members, a current utility bill and Social Security numbers for all household members.

"Please understand that completing an application for energy assistance does not guarantee that funding will be available or that a household will receive assistance," Hagnauer said.

Those having questions regarding the IHEAP program may contact the Madison County Community Development Energy Assistance Office at 602-8206, extension 3105, attention Roselle Williams, or the State of Illinois Energy Hotline, 1-800-252-8643.

The office is at 201 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville.

Edwardsville deputy seeking sheriff's job

Citing 14 years of law enforcement experience, James A. Terry, 36, of Edwardsville, announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Madison County sheriff Thursday.

Terry, a sergeant in the Madison County Sheriff's Department, is presently on loan to the Madison County state's attorney's office. He also is an alderman in Edwardsville.

"As a deputy sheriff in Madison County for 14 years, I have come to know the people of the county and their concerns about crime first hand. As sheriff, I would continue to put those concerns at the top of my agenda," Terry said.

In addition to his experience as a deputy, Terry cited his experience as an alderman as a further qualification for the sheriff's position.

As chairman of the city's finance committee and as a deputy sheriff, I believe I have a combination of administrative and law enforcement skills that uniquely qualify me for the job of sheriff," the candidate said.

Terry has held several posts while a deputy, including assignment to the Madison County Major Case squad and liaison between the sheriff's department and the state's attorney's office.

A lifelong resident of Madison County, Terry is married and has three children.

Children find WWII rifle grenade

GRANITE CITY — Some curious children, who were investigating an old abandoned storm shelter on Illinois Route 162 last week, found themselves in a potentially life-threatening situation.

While walking through the shelter, the youths found a live World War II vintage rifle grenade.

Luckily for the children, their curiosity stopped there, they called the police.

POLICE OFFICIALS called to the scene notified the 50th Explosive Ordnance Disposal Squad, located at the St. Louis Area Support Center in Granite City.

According to Dan O'Boyle, a public relations officer at the Army Aviation System Command in St. Louis, the weapon was a smoke grenade that still contained the pin.

"The grenade was very unstable because of its age," he said, "it would explode on contact."

O'Boyle said a person exposed to the blast from such a grenade could suffer a severe burn.

THE DISPOSAL SQUAD has transported the grenade to Leonard Wood, Mo., and will dispose of it there, he noted.

O'Boyle would not discuss any of the techniques, do them incorrectly and get injured," he said.

Police Chief Bill Harris said the storm shelter has been secured so that no one can gain further access. He said a thorough investigation of the shelter had not revealed other weapons in the structure.

Renovations, sprucing-up in Madison

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

MADISON A campaign to improve the appearance of homes and business places is continuing, it was noted at the Oct. 8 City Council meeting.

Construction of a new building has started at Fifth and State streets to house Sterling Service, a food-oriented business, Building Inspector John Dutko noted.

A NEW REFRIGERATION and heating company is slated to move into the former Madison Coal and Feed Co. building near 14th Street.

Renovation projects include a building in the 700 block of Madison Avenue that is being remodeled inside. The owner informed Dutko he will soon begin work on the outside of the building to conform to the look of other business places in that block.

Apartment in the back have been cleaned and will be painted soon, Dutko added.

Vasil Gravitte said residents are cooperating with city regulations on depositing trash in dumpsters, but they need to remember to bundle and tie limbs for pick-up.

"IT IS THAT TIME of the year again when leaves begin to fall and everyone wants to burn them. I want to remind all residents they cannot burn on the asphalt alleys and streets," Gravitte said.

The mayor reported the old Number 9 police car has been repaired and repainted at no cost to the city, except for the cost of a new motor. "This car looks like a new car and is in good shape. I would like to see the Streets and Alleys Committee begin planning to do the same thing with street department equipment," he said.

"THE TRUCKS need to be cleaned up and painted so they are something to be proud of as they move through the city. I would like to see something worked out to better serve our community," the mayor said.

"WE ARE NOW ABLE to use the facilities of a car wash so that the trucks can be steam-cleaned. With a little paint, the trucks can be improved in appearance."

Alderman Charles Rockett said the committee has been meeting and has several things in mind for street department vehicles.

Alderman Robert Grieve asked if the street department can begin painting yellow markings at intersections where the paint has been worn off and is hard to see.

Robbie Robbins, superintendent of streets, said he has material to be used in repainting cracked and broken sections of curbs, but it cannot be used until the temperature drops to a low of about 35 degrees.

When these repairs are completed, the painting process will begin, he said.

SINCE MANY STREET signs are illegible, they will be replaced, the mayor said. Bellico explained that a machine to cut such signs is now being used at the OATH Organization to Aid the Handicapped building, and the group has agreed to make new signs and laminate them to extend the useful life.

OATH will not charge the city a fee for the work, but the city is to provide the materials for the signs, the mayor said.

The director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, Michael B. Witte, will speak to the public at the October meeting of the Sierra Club at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 14, at the First Presbyterian Church, 4th and Alby streets, Alton.

He will address the following topics: Goals to plan for the future of the IDOC, including "Build Illinois," the future of the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers, including a draft of the Great Confluence Reserve proposed by the Midwest Regional Conservation Committee of the Sierra Club, the future of the Shawnee Forest, where wilderness protection is proposed for 15,000 of the 32,000 acres of possible wilderness areas, and the status of Illinois parks.

Nestle installs new equipment

Between 10 and 15 workers at the Nestle Co. Inc., 201 Adams St., Granite City, will be off work through this week.

Roger Higgins, plant manager, said Friday the company is doing some maintenance work and putting in new equipment, requiring that some employees be off the premises. "We have a few people off," Higgins said. "But it's nothing to be alarmed about. Certainly, none of my people are alarmed."

Told of a rumor of layoffs, Higgins said the only lack of work is for two weeks and this is due directly to the equipment installation.

The employees will be drawing unemployment compensation this week after a seven-day waiting period, and they are expected to be back to work next week.

Seat belts may be cutting deaths

Gov. James R. Thompson noted last week that traffic fatalities involving motor vehicle occupants declined by nearly 41 percent last month, compared to the annual average for September during the past five years.

The announcement was made during a ceremony in which the Illinois Coalition for Safety Belt Use commended the governor for his support of the state's safety belt law, which went into effect July 1.

The 41 percent drop showed a reduction from 98 deaths as an average over the past five years to 58 in September 1985. The number of traffic deaths in September 1984 was 94.

Along with August's nearly 27 percent reduction in fatalities compared to the 1984 figure, we are beginning to see the important contribution of seat belt use," Thompson said.

"Many factors contribute — improved roads through our $900 million a year road program, stepped-up law enforcement, safer vehicles and sophisticated medical care. But safety belt use may be showing us a more immediate benefit."

After several months of some increase, overall fatalities for the entire year are now beginning to show a slight decrease. In the first nine months of 1984, there were 1,132 deaths, compared to 1,102 in the same period this year — a 2.7 percent decrease.

About 16 percent of drivers and front-seat passengers were using safety belts before the law went into effect. A study in July showed usage had increased to 40.8 percent.

Preliminary studies indicated 70 to 80 percent of motor vehicle fatalities occurred when occupants were not using seat belts.

The vehicle occupant category of tabulation is separate from motorcycle, pedestrian and pedalcyclist fatalities where seat belts would not be a factor.

INCREASES FOR ELECTRIC, GAS & INFLATION

Individual Room Control

Electric baseboard and ceiling panel systems provide accurate and reliable temperature control for each room in your house. New electronic timer thermostats automatically adjust each room's temperature to fit your modern lifestyle. Electric baseboard and ceiling panels are among the most affordable heating systems available.

Reinstate

EPA and the attorney general's office to enforce pollution laws.

HE SAID that since 1978, there has been "no noticeable improvement" in air quality in Granite City. He alleged the dismissal represents "collusion in the political sense."

"We have a Republican governor who appoints the head of the EPA," he said. "Republicans have been noted for favoring big business."

Douglas contended "favoritism" for big business may have had something to do with the dismissal of the pollution complaint.

"We have a constitutional right in Illinois to breathe clean air and nothing should get in the way of that," Douglas said.

DAN HINES, public relations director for Granite City Steel, said Friday he did not wish to comment on Hines' suggestion of favoritism.

"I think the merits of the case speak for themselves. If they (the pollution control board) dismissed it, they dismissed it," he said.

been living with his brother since their move. He has helped his brother remodel the home.

Since the incident, however, Ledbetter's brother has lost his job and Ledbetter's family has been living on $350 a month they get from the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

Ledbetter has no medical insurance and thus far has accumulated medical debts of $3,000 for his operations and one-week hospital stay.

HE SAID DESPITE the bad consequences of his actions, he has not been sued on helping others.

"I never did like seeing people gang up on someone," he said.

Ledbetter said this was not the first fight he had attempted to break up. At 6-foot-7, and 250 pounds, Ledbetter could break up a fight just by his presence.

"I'VE BEEN KNOWN to break up a few fights, but I've never been known to be broken up by one," he said. "This won't stop me from getting involved again — next time I'll just be better prepared."

The St. Louis man saved by Ledbetter was Mark Stuckenschneider, who suffered a fractured skull, permanent hearing damage and a concussion from the beating.

No arrests have been made, though Ledbetter said he has seen the persons involved in the fight since the incident. An arrest can not be made, he said, because he can not identify which weapon they had used.

"THE POLICE SAID they needed me to pinpoint which acts the persons had performed and I couldn't, so they couldn't arrest anyone," he said.

Ledbetter said the assailants' attack lasted less than a minute. He said the group appeared to be under the influence of drugs.

The assailants left after one person hit Ledbetter on the head with a bumper jack, but Ledbetter remained standing.

LEDBETTER SAID the group called him "crazy" and ran off.

"I was dazed by the blow, but I knew they would have killed that man if I hadn't done something," he said.

GOOFY leads the Disney home team to victory in Walt Disney's Magic Kingdom on Ice, which begins Nov. 5 for 10 performances through Nov. 10 in the St. Louis arena. Tickets are now on sale.

Walt Disney's Magic Kingdom on Ice scheduled Nov. 5-10

Imagine a world where fantasy and reality meet and all impossible dreams come true — lovable, clumsy Goofy becomes the Athlete of the Century, the bobby saves the game, a 9-year-old girl grows up to become an Olympic skating champion, Mickey Mouse becomes "the boss" and everyone's dreams come true.

The Arena is the place where impossible dreams come true as Walt Disney's Magic Kingdom on Ice glides into St. Louis from Tuesday, Nov. 5, to Sunday, Nov. 10, for 10 live performances. Ticket sales are set for the Arena box office, all Tickets Now Locations or by calling Charge-A-Tic at 1-314-231-1234. The show features more than 100 professional figure skaters.

For the first time, the major production number is a salute to the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair, entitled "Turn of the Century St. Louis." The production is complete with songs, dances, costuming, scenery and Disney characters Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, Goofy and others.

The star is Linda Fratianne, Olympic silver medalist, four-time national champion and twice world figure skating champion. As a young girl growing up in Northridge, Calif., she dreamed of someday competing in the Olympic games and her dream came true in 1980.

This edition also stars 1983 world professional champions Michael Nemecek and Penny Booth, who skate down 42nd Street. Goofy and the Big Bad Wolf have a showdown in Mudville during the World's Fair.

Finnish champion Kristina Wegelius skates a routine to the tune of 1940s popular tunes, and 1985 U.S. silver medalist Mark Cockerell entertains the crowd during the fair.

Symphony to perform 'The Planets'

Guests can "catch a star" at Powell Hall when the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra performs "The Planets" by Holst at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 31 and Nov. 2. Also included on the program are performances by Hermann Baumann of Dukas' Villanelle, for Horn and Orchestra and the Horn Concerto No. 1 by R. Strauss.

"River's End," from the 1985 Pulitzer Prize-winning River Run Symphony by Stephen Albert, completes the program.

Considered the most enduring work by Holst, "The Planets" was written in 1914-16.

Baumann, considered one of the finest horn players in the world, makes his St. Louis Symphony debut in these concerts.

Baumann's music festival performances include appearances at the Vienna, Mostly Mozart, Salzburg, Colorado Music and Chautauqua festivals. Internationally renowned for his Master Classes, he has appeared in solo recital at the Frick Collection, Library of Congress and Northwestern University, as well as on tour in Israel, Germany, Japan, France, Holland, Australia and Canada.

In addition to his numerous recordings for Telefunken, Acata and Cadmon/Arabisque, Baumann has become an exclusive Philips recording artist. To date, he is the only artist to ever have recorded the Bach Cantatas on the natural (valveless) horn. His most recent recordings include the Strauss Concerti, Weber Concertino and Gliere Concerto with

Checklist aids students

Once you have decided on a career, it is time to decide on a career school. To help you decide, the following career school checklist was developed with the assistance of many trade and technical school graduates, teachers and administrators.

This checklist is intended to save hours of a person's time in trying to find the best school to serve educational needs and interests.

COURSES

Are the courses current? Will the material taught in these courses prepare you for employment in your chosen field?

TEACHERS

Are they experienced? What are they doing to stay abreast of rapid changes in your field?

ACCREDITATION

Is the school accredited? Accreditation means the school has passed a thorough examination of its educational quality, teaching ability, and administrative integrity by an accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Department of Education. Accreditation is usually listed in the school's catalog.

STATE LICENSING

Is the school licensed by the state? Most states require licensing and a notice should appear in the school's catalog.

FACILITIES AND EQUIPMENT

Are the facilities well maintained? How old are they? Is the equipment in the school actively used in today's marketplace?

HANDS-ON TRAINING

Is there a lab or shop that can provide "hands-on" experience with the tools of your trade? How much time is allotted for such training?

PLACEMENT

Does the school help its graduates to find jobs?

COST

How much money for how much training? Does the cost of tuition include all the necessary supplies and support materials which are required to train for this career?

AID

Does the school have any kind of financial aid program? What benefits are available? What is the criteria for eligibility for such loans?

ADDITIONAL RECOMMENDATIONS

Talk to graduates; talk to employers that have hired students from the school in the past; talk to instructors; talk to current students; find out what percentage of students graduate and what percentage get jobs; ask what kinds of jobs students receive after graduation and how much money they earn.

Finally, write or phone schools with this checklist handy. Visit schools to compare for yourself the actual promise against the performance, then decide on a school knowing you have the facts, not a collection of promises.

For a free handbook listing over 500 accredited trade and technical schools that offer 98 different careers to choose from, an individual may write to NATTS, 2251 Wisconsin Ave., N.W. Washington, D.C. 20007.

Frohardt PTA open house set

The Frohardt School PTA executive board met Oct. 7 to discuss several issues for the 1985-86 school year.

Plans were made for a successful open house on Tuesday. Visitors will be encouraged to join the PTA. The class representing the largest number of PTA members during a membership drive will be rewarded with a pizza party. A floating trophy will be presented to the winning classroom each month; Mrs. Wojcik's third graders received the trophy for October.

Skating parties will be held each second Monday. A special party will be held Oct. 14 at Stoppok's Skating Rink, 1823 Cleveland Blvd., from 6 to 8 p.m.

Prather choosing Student of Month

This year Prather Elementary School is having a Student of the Month program. Each month a student from each grade level is chosen by his or her teacher to represent the class. The teacher's selection is based on the student's use of academic ability, sportsmanship, citizenship, cooperation, attitude, effort and involvement in and out of school activities.

The student's picture and biography will be displayed on the bulletin board in the main hallway each month. In addition, each student selected for Student of the Month will receive a certificate designating his or her selection. Students selected for Prather Student of the Month for October are: Thomas Fonville, grade one; Christina Carroll, grade two; Ricky Roberts, grade three; Rita Boggs, grade four; Andrea Fonville, grade five; and Shelle Goodman, grade six.

The Student of the Month program is coordinated by Janet Smith and Suzanne Lentz, teachers at Prather.

Coolidge fees to be collected Oct. 17

Oct. 17 has been designated as collection day at Coolidge Junior High School for fall semester instructional fees. Students have been instructed to bring $7 that is due for this semester. Parents who wish to pay now for the entire year may send $14 with their child.

The fees, which are a district-wide policy and are used to purchase instructional materials for the students, will be collected during homeroom sessions.

Wilson School PTA presents materials to teachers

The Wilson School PTA held its first meeting of the new school year Sept. 17.

President Richard Ault opened the session and introduced the newly-elected PTA officers. As Principal Ted Vrenick introduced the teachers to the parents, the PTA presented each teacher with $25 worth of games and educational materials to be used by the students in their rooms during recess.

After the meeting, the parents were invited to visit their children's school rooms. A bake sale also was held.

Wilson School students will be participating in their annual Candy Sale sponsored by the PTA through Oct. 15. The money raised will be used to further the education of the students.

A new item being offered this year will be a chocolate statue of the Statue of Liberty. For each one sold, a donation will be made to help with the work being done to restore the Statue of Liberty.

The next PTA meeting will be held Oct. 15 at 7 p.m. in the Wilson School gym. "I-SEARCH!" (the Illinois State Enforcement Agency to Recover Children) will present a program on how to protect children and what steps to take if a child is missing.

Q. What should I look for in shopping for a loan, whether it is personal, auto, a house mortgage or a business loan?

A. When talking to a potential lender there are seven basic questions you'll want to ask. First, what is the annual interest rate on the loan you are considering? Second: What will the total cost of the loan be in dollars? Next, ask what the loan time period will be. Ask what the cost of deferring or extending the time period of the loan. Next: Compare the costs of late charges for overdue payments as well as the cost of credit life insurance. Finally, you'll want to compare the total amount of monthly payments. Armed with this information, you should be able to make a wise decision concerning an important financial agreement.

GCHS rallies in second half; scalp Comanches

By GREGG OCHOA
Staff writer

CAHOKIA — The Warriors dug themselves into a first half hole but pulled themselves out, brushed off the dirt and buried the Comanches Friday night.

Four second-half touchdowns and a booming field goal gave Granite City a 30-12 victory, its second football win of the year.

It was also the second year in a row that Granite City has beaten Cahokia and each time had they had to fight back.

A defensive unit which has been under fire recently was resurrected in the final half. The Warrior defense forced five Cahokia mistakes, including three interceptions by Jamie Hogan and two fumble recoveries by Kevin Lilley.

"Our defense finally got some turnovers and that hasn't happened much this year. It really psyched up the offense," said Warrior coach Ron Yates. "It really psyched up the offense."

Granite City used a sound running game to wear down the Comanches. Dave Tatum paced the attack with 20 carries for 174 yards and two scores, including an 81-yard run in the game's final minute.

Simply put, Tatum was the wheels in the Granite City machine which steamrolled Cahokia in the second half.

"We have been running good all year," Yates said. "It's really no surprise."

All told, the Warriors ground out 235 yards on the ground. Joining Tatum were Ron Owens (5 carries for 21 yards), Pat Keeling (8 carries for 33 yards) and Tim Hogan (6 rushes for 8 yards).

Granite City trailed 12-0 at the end of the first half and appeared very sluggish, but looked like a different team in the third quarter.

"We saw a lot of things in the first half that made us much better in the second half," Yates said. "Granite City came out hot in the third quarter and poured on the offense. It took the Warriors seven plays to score after the kickoff. A key play in the drive was Hogan's pass to Chris Moad at the two. Tatum then knifed in from there. (Ryan Weeks) point after was no good, cutting the Comanche lead to six. For Weeks the miss was only his first this season after 10 consecutive kicks."

After a good defensive stand, it didn't take Granite City long to even things up. Five plays later Keeling darted in from four yards out. With 3:44 left in the third quarter — and Weeks kick between the uprights — the Warriors led for the first time in the game 13-12.

From that point on Cahokia appeared to be rattled. The Comanches' next series lasted just two plays as running back Marlin Fluker coughed up the ball and Lilley pounced on it.

Granite City moved the ball to its own 30, but stalled. The drive was kept alive when Cahokia was charged with roughing punter Steve Davis, giving the Warriors ball near midfield.

Tim Hogan, who completed 9 of 16 passes for 164 yards (one interception), could only move the team to the 30. However, that was far enough for Weeks who bombed a 47-yard field goal, his longest in a game. It made the score 16-12.

"I'm real happy for Ryan," Yates said. "We feel he's got the best leg in the area."

The ball had enough steam on it that it could have gone farther. "I didn't really know how long it was," Weeks said of his boot. "I never look before hand because I might get psyched out. I knew I had hit it good."

After Weeks boomed the ball into the end zone, Cahokia self-destructed on the next play. Nate Broaden, who had played well in the first half, tossed to Jeff Laubenthal who fumbled.

Granite City moved in for the kill grinding up yardage on the ground. The Warriors completed just one pass in 10 plays. The drive was capped by Tim Hogan's quarterback.

GCHS winter physicals set for Oct. 30

Athletes at Granite City High School wishing to participate in a winter sport may want to attend the physical examination session scheduled at the high school Wednesday, Oct. 30.

Physicals are necessary to compete in a winter sport, however, those athletes who received an examination in August for a fall sport do not need another.

Exams for girls will be given beginning at 9 a.m. in the main gymnasium. Boys needing physicals are asked to show up half an hour later, at 9:30 a.m.

Fees for the physicals are $10. There will be another session in February for those athletes playing spring sports.

"Our defense finally got some turnovers and that hasn't happened much this year. It really psyched up the offense... We saw a lot of things in the first half that made us much better in the second half."

Ron Yates
Warrior football coach

sneak as Granite's lead ballooned to 23-12.

As was its plan, Cahokia shut down the Warriors passing Jamie Hogan, the area's second-leading receiver, was limited to just four catches for 51 yards. Moad had two receptions for 20 yards. Keeling caught two passes for 29 yards.

Hogan, however, was a standout from his secondary position. He had three interceptions and batted several other passes away. The three thefts were just one short of Dave Gushler's team high of four against Collinsville.

Hogan's second interception set up Granite City's last score, the 81-yard sprint by Tatum who broke three tackles along the way.

Hogan's final steal allowed Granite City to run off the clock. In the first half, it was a completely different Cahokia team. Fluker and Timmie Demetrius ran at will over Granite City in the early going.

As a passer, Broaden, just a sophomore, was also sharp. In the Comanches' second drive he threw three strikes to Demetrius and Chris Egner to help set up a touchdown.

On the other hand, Granite City was sputtering on offense.

Cahokia took a 6-0 lead on an 11-play drive as Fluker ran the ball seven times. He scored from the five.

Granite City ran into some more bad luck. Guy Williams swiped a Tim Hogan pass with 9:22 left in the half. Less than four minutes later it was 12-0 as Fluker dived over from the one.

"It wasn't as bad as it looked,"

Yates said. "We made some metal blunders, but fortunately everything fell into place."

Granite City is now (2-4) and will host Alton next week. Kickoff is 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Stadium. Cahokia fell to 1-6.

With 1-0 Victory Over North Stars

Elite four: Warriors advance to semi-finals

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Jim Chomko and Warrior soccer coach Gene Baker were in agreement following the Warriors' 1-0 victory over McCluer North Friday night in the Tournament of Champions.

Total agreement.

The two both reached a consensus that the Warriors' victory over the North Stars — their third of the tournament and the Warriors' 12th of the season — was the team's best game thus far.

But for Chomko, who scored the game's only goal and his second of the season, the victory was doubly nice.

"I think it was our, the Warriors, best game this season, but also I think it was my best game as well," Chomko said. "Definitely my best game."

And, as for Baker, he couldn't have been prouder of his Warriors who have again earned their way into the final four of what may be the most prestigious high school soccer tournament in the Midwest.

"I think we played a very, very fine game. Unquestionably our best game of the season. We were awfully good out there tonight. We played with a lot of intensity. If we play that well against CBC (Christian Brothers) we'll do just fine tomorrow (Saturday)," the Warrior mentor said after the game.

GCHS' Fifth Annual Tournament of Champions

The victory secured the D division championship for the Warriors and earned them the right to meet CBC, the B division champions, in the second semi-final game. Other division winners were Vianney and DeSmet which squared off at 11 a.m. Saturday in the first semi-final game.

Each semi-final winner advanced to the championship game at 7 p.m. while the semi-final losers advanced to the third-place game at 5 p.m.

The Warriors broke out on top early in the contest. In fact, statistics prove that Chomko's goal was, indeed, the earliest the Warriors have scored this season. Coming at the 6:12 mark, the score displayed text-book technique.

Displaying some fancy footwork, Dennis Gaudreault dribbled through two North Star defenders to the left corner. Setting up the play, he put the ball in the air near the goalmouth — in corner kick fashion — where Zukas received and touched off to Chomko for the score.

Chomko's shot, about six yards out, went from right to left, just out of reach of the diving Mike Thompson.

"It was great. I went nuts when it went in," Chomko said. "It was a big boost for me and the team. I was just glad our defense was tough enough to make it stick. We owe a lot to those guys, the defense."

While Chomko put the Warriors ahead in the first half, the North Stars threatened, repeatedly, in the second half. Hampered by the rain, which had been drizzling off and on earlier but had now begun to fall steadily, the North Stars' frustration began to show in the fourth quarter.

"Since we were ahead, I think the rain may have hurt them more than it hurt us," Baker said. "But then, too, we had to be concerned that one of our defenders didn't slip or a ball didn't take a strange bounce past Terry (Warrior goalkeeper Dutko). It was good to be ahead when the rains started coming."

As for the North Stars, McCluer coach Ray Stahl said he thought the rain hampered each team's play equally.

"Sure it hurt us, but they couldn't execute like they wanted to either. I think the rain slowed play a little bit and took the speed out of the game, but I think it effected both teams about the same," Stahl, the North Stars' fifth-year coach, said.

"Granite City was obviously up for this one. They're a good team that got ahead early and made it stick. They have a very fine program here. I hope they ask us back," Stahl concluded.

From Regional Sturman is GCHS' golf advancee

By JAMES BLASINGAME

Staff writer

SCOTT AFB — The Mascoutah Regional of the Illinois State High School Association Golf Tournament held few surprises for area golf teams on Thursday.

As expected, the Edwardsville Tigers clubbed the rest of the field and returned to the Cardinal Creek clubhouse with an 11-shot margin over second-place finisher, O'Fallon. Edwardsville turned in a team total 305, followed by the Panthers' 316 and host Mascoutah's 325.

Alex Vandiver, Edwardsville's ace and regional medalist for three consecutive seasons, fired a tournament-low 74 to lead the Tigers.

Six strokes behind Vandiver was Granite City's Mike Sturman. A senior, Sturman finished 10th in the individual competition with a round of 80 and is the only Warrior golfer to advance to Tuesday's sectional tournament at St. Clair Country Club in Belleville.

"I'm very glad Mike did (advance)," said Warrior coach Russ Chappell. "He's very deserving."

Sturman proved to be Granite City's most consistent golfer this year, shooting at or near his average of 40 all season.

As a team, the Warriors finished fifth on Thursday. The Granite City team score of 335 was 10 shots above the total that Chappell had expected.

"Yes, I thought we'd do better. I said we were a dark horse going in. I thought we'd shoot 325 or 330, but we didn't," Chappell said. "We shot 335."

"We knew it would be a dogfight between us, (Belleville) West, and Mascoutah for third place," said Chappell. "And it was close until our last two players came in. If you don't get help from your (No.) 1, 2 and 3 players..."

Besides Sturman, Warriors who figured into Granite City's 335 total were: freshman Mike Wilkins, 86; senior Eldon Depew, 86; and Junior Jeff Isentiger, 87.

On Tuesday afternoon, the Warriors capped off their 19-7 season with a three-stroke victory over host Mascoutah and Centralia. The win came at the same course where Thursday's regional was held and marked the first time in four seasons that Mascoutah has been beaten on its home turf. It also gave Chappell reason to be optimistic about the Warriors' chances on Thursday.

Unfortunately, Granite City could not repeat its performance.

"It was the same course, the same place and conditions were obviously better (for the regional)," Chappell said. "I think the kids got involved pressure-wise."

Sturman, Steve Schatz and Alan Gerard fired 40's and Depew added 42 for the Warriors' winning 162 total on Tuesday. Mascoutah and Centralia carded 165's, as Granite City ended the regular season on a high note.

"Overall, it's been a very fine season," Chappell said. "I'm just disappointed we didn't get more people out of regionals."

Boys Finish Third

Girls easily win
BVEast invitational

By KEN PERKINS

Staff writer

FAIRVIEW HEIGHTS — They came, but they weren't really there. With the prestigious Mattoon Invitational only a day off, the teams that bothered to show up for Friday's Belleville East Cross-Country Invitational at Longacre Park did so with skeleton crews.

What was supposed to be a quality display of running by Centralia, one of the top teams in southern Illinois, turned out to be a yawn of what ifs.

The Orphans, with their top personnel headed for central Illinois, came with backups and failed to place inside the top five.

With that in mind, most of the burden of excitement fell on Belleville East's Mike Raney, the last of the top boys' hurriers to remain, and Granite City's Lora Wiser, who didn't disappoint anyone.

Both did what was expected and took home individual crowns.

For Wiser, who romped in her fourth consecutive meet without a drop of perspiration, it was doubly sweet. The Lady Warriors ran away with the team title — and they did it with quality and quantity.

The 22 points was the lowest tally of the season for Granite City, which turned up for next Friday's Southwestern Conference Meet as well as the Class AA Sectionals.

The Lady Warriors were 55 points ahead of second place Belleville West and light years away from the rest of the eight-team field.

The late-blooming boys continued their somewhat hot streak by placing third in a field of 11.

In a post-meet comment that's becoming routine, Warrior head coach, Dave McClain, said "We ran well." No kidding.

The girls unit ran superb, placing five runners in the top 10.

Behind Wiser was Shelia Noel, who placed third on the 2.2 mile course in 14:48. Marianne Finn was fourth while Lisa Wiser placed sixth and Faye Patton, eighth.

The girls' triumph was the fourth straight and puts them deep into the drivers' seat for the SWC meet, which will be run on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The boys' performance was tough, considering a tight field. Belleville West finished first with 77 points and was followed closely by Westlin (84) and the Warriors (97). Belleville East and Freeburg rounded out the top five.

The Warriors had runners in prime position, placing 10th, 12th, 13th, 30th and 32nd.

East's Raney, who picked up loads of confidence as a half-miler last year, led from start to finish. It didn't seem to bother him that the field was as strong as he would have liked.

"A win is a win," said Raney. "I really don't care who it was against."

It was a routine day for Lora Wiser, who clocked in at 13:54, a bit slower than her tastes allows.

The course was a little further (2.2) than the usual 2.1 miles and she did it without a sole being in sight.

"It was a pretty slow course," said McClain.

"It was flat with a few hills, but it was difficult for the kids to get their footing out there. The air wasn't much help, either. It seemed very sticky."

Wiser led from start to finish, pulling out the first 100 yards and taking command by the first mile. At one point, it really seemed as if she was simply out for a Sunday jog.

Edwardsville's Juleigh Barringer, who is trying to make a comeback after an injury last year, was second in 14:38. But she was far, far behind.

"This was one of those meets where you give you younger kids a chance to run," said O'Fallon's Bob Nesbit, who held his varsity boys out of the meet in order to get them ready for Saturday's race in Mattoon.

"It was just too close to the race for Saturday. We haven't been running all that well lately, so I'm hoping it helps us."

Greyhounds run past Trojans 5-1

By GARY KING

Staff writer

LEBANON — Madison soccer coach Gene Briggs used an ancient Benjamin Franklin quote to analyze the play his squad on Thursday.

"Ben Franklin said, 'The whole is only as good as the sum of its parts.' I think he might have had us in mind when he said that," said Briggs.

"The whole" — Madison's parts found it difficult to stop one of the Lebanon Greyhounds, that being Mark Consuelos. Consuelos scored three goals en route to his team's 5-1 victory over the Trojans.

Madison missed a golden opportunity to draw first blood when a blast from Trojan Kenny Ingram hit the crossbar early in the first quarter. Moments later, Consuelos began his assault as he booted a shot past Trojan goalie Pat Glasper. The Greyhounds never looked back.

The second half began with Lebanon springing a 2-0 lead. The Trojans pulled Glasper out of the net and moved him to a forward position in hopes of sparking the dormant offense. Duwayne Rogers, Glasper's replacement, was greeted rudely as the Greyhounds scored two goals within :53 seconds midway through the third quarter.

The Trojans managed their only goal late in the final period when Jerry Gushleff punched a shot into the lower left side of the net.

Although Briggs was displeased with the overall performance of his squad, he was very satisfied with the effort of Kenny Ingram.

"Kenny played very well today. I wish all our guys played with as much heart as he does. We seem to have a general lack of desire to win. I really thought we could have won today if we'd wanted it," said Briggs.

With the loss the Trojans fell to 1-9, while Lebanon upped their record to 2-10.
